

By providers, for Illinois providers: A community for problem solving with expert support

Typically 12 once-weekly training sessions per series

Learning through cases presented by participants

Certified CME credits, social work CEUs, and nursing credits

Completely virtual and no cost to participate

ECHO-Chicago operated by the University of Chicago focuses on workforce development to build primary care capacity in communities across Illinois. The aim of ECHO-Chicago is to reduce health disparities and improve access to care by expanding knowledge and skills of community-based providers. It's more than a webinar, it's a provider community. ECHO series are live interactive sessions demonstrating our motto of "All Teach, All Learn, All Support".

Series Open for Registration

- Adolescent Health - begins 4/10
- Behavioral Health: Adult Populations - begins 4/7
- Childhood Adversity & Trauma - begins 4/7
- Geriatrics - begins 3/31
- Hypertension - begins 5/5
- Long COVID - begins 4/1
- Maternal Health - begins 4/9
- Palliative Care - begins 4/7
- Pediatric ADHD & Autism - begins 4/2
- Pediatric Allergy & Asthma - begins 4/1
- Refugee and Migrant Health - begins 4/9
- Women's Health: Practical Care incl. Menopause - begins 4/6
- Weight Management for Adult Populations - begins 4/10

Join our community of providers now!

Click here
for more information or to register

"I have participated in several ECHO-Chicago programs. My practice, how I treat patients, and how comfortable I feel managing certain conditions, has significantly improved. I love the format."

- Christina Wells, MD, Miles Square Health Center